

the repetition of the verb includes after “it” in line 9 are other clues that capital is the referent.

35. D See R✓6

The correct answer (D) is found in lines 7–8, where capital is described . . . such as machines, vehicles, and buildings . . . (A) is a building, (B) is a vehicle. (C) is found in line 9 which states But it also includes the funds, where it is capital. The only choice not mentioned is (D) workers, which is the correct answer.

36. A See R✓2

The meaning of the word “funds” in line 9 can be deduced by knowing that part of what capital includes is tools, which are listed in lines 7 and 8 as machines, vehicles, and buildings. In addition, capital includes “funds” (line 9), which are different from tools. Answer choice (A) money is the correct meaning of funds.

37. B See R✓2

In the context of this passage, the phrase put aside is related to an economic concept. In this context, answer choice (B) saved is correct.

38. D See R✓6

The correct answer is found in line 13 This process of capital accumulation . . . where this process refers to the preceding lines 11–12 But if a farmer can grow more corn than his family needs to eat, he can use the surplus as seed to increase the next crop. (A), (B), and (C) do not result in accumulating capital.

39. C See R✓2

The correct answer (C) is found in lines 14–15 Saving played an important role in the European tradition. Something that people are accustomed to plays an important role. (A), (B), and (D) are not mentioned in the passage as things that the European ancestors of early Americans did.

40. C See R✓6

The correct answer (C) is found in the last paragraph. The first line states, The great bulk of the accumulated wealth of America . . . was derived either directly or indirectly from trade. The last line states, As colonial production rose and trade expanded, a business community emerged in the colonies, linking the provinces by lines of trade and identity of interest. Answer (A) is not mentioned in the passage as a cause of the emergence of a business class; answers (C) and (D) are not discussed in the passage.

41. A See R✓3

The correct answer (A) is the most general of the choices and includes the topics of the three paragraphs in the passage. (B), (C), and (D) are too specific and are mentioned as details in the passage.

42. C See R✓6

The correct answer (C) is found in lines 8–9 Sometimes it's hard to figure out if you have a food allergy, since it can show up so many different ways. It can show up so many different ways is similar in meaning to the similarity of symptoms of the allergy to other problems. (A), (B), and (D) are not true according to the passage.

43. A See R✓2

Clues to the meaning of “symptoms” are the phrases show up so many different ways (lines 8–9) and other problems (line 9), followed by a list of afflictions that may indicate food allergies rashes, hives, joint pains, mimicking arthritis, headaches, irritability, or depression. 44. D See R✓2

The organization of the paragraph is a clue to the meaning of “set off.” The passive sentence (lines 14–15) indicates that certain foods set off migraines (the first step in the process of getting migraines) and is followed in the last sentence in the paragraph by Some people have been successful in treating their migraines . . ., (a stage after the migraine is in progress). In this context “set off” means to trigger or to quickly put into action.

45. B See R✓7

The correct answer (B) is found in lines 13–14. The passage states that . . . if these foods are not fed to an infant until her or his intestines mature at around seven months, which is similar in meaning to have a carefully restricted diet as infants. (A), (C), and (D) are not true according to the passage.

46. A See R✓2

A clue to the meaning of “hyperactive” is to analyze the parts of the word. Hyper means more than usual. The correct answer choice is (A) overly active. 47. C See R✓6

The correct answer (C) is found in line 13. The clause until her or his intestines mature . . . is similar in meaning to underdeveloped intestinal tract. The other choices are not true according to the passage.

48. D See R✓5

The pronoun “these” in the phrase “a few of these” refers to the noun phrase that precedes the pronoun, foods high in salicylates. The foods listed (almonds, green peppers, peaches, tea, and grapes) do not include unnatural foods with additives or colorings.

49. D See R✓6

The correct answer (D) is found in lines 18–20. The other answer choices are not mentioned in the passage as a treatment for migraines.

50. A See R✓6

The correct answer (A) is found in lines 24–25. Other researchers have had mixed results when testing whether the diet is effective is similar in meaning to NOT verified by researchers as being consistently effective. (B), (C), and (D) are true for the Feingold diet according to lines 20–24.
